

Lecture Outline 9 Part 2: Modernist Landscape Design

Garrett Eckbo

- Ten gardens, 1938 while a student at Harvard
- Assisted on landscape design for "Futurama" the General Motors exhibit for the 1939 World's Fair in Queens, New York City
- 1939-1942 work for the Farm Security Administration, Manzanar
- Bolles Residence, 1945
(partners Eckbo, Royston, Williams)
- Ladera, CA, 1947
- Landscape for Living, 1950
- Alcoa Forecast Garden, (Eckbo garden), Laurel Canyon, 1952-66
- Lakewood, CA Parks, 1955-65
(partners Eckbo, Dean, Williams)
- Urban Landscape Design, 1964
(partners Eckbo, Dean, Austin, & Williams now EDAW, then bought by AECOM)

Dan Kiley

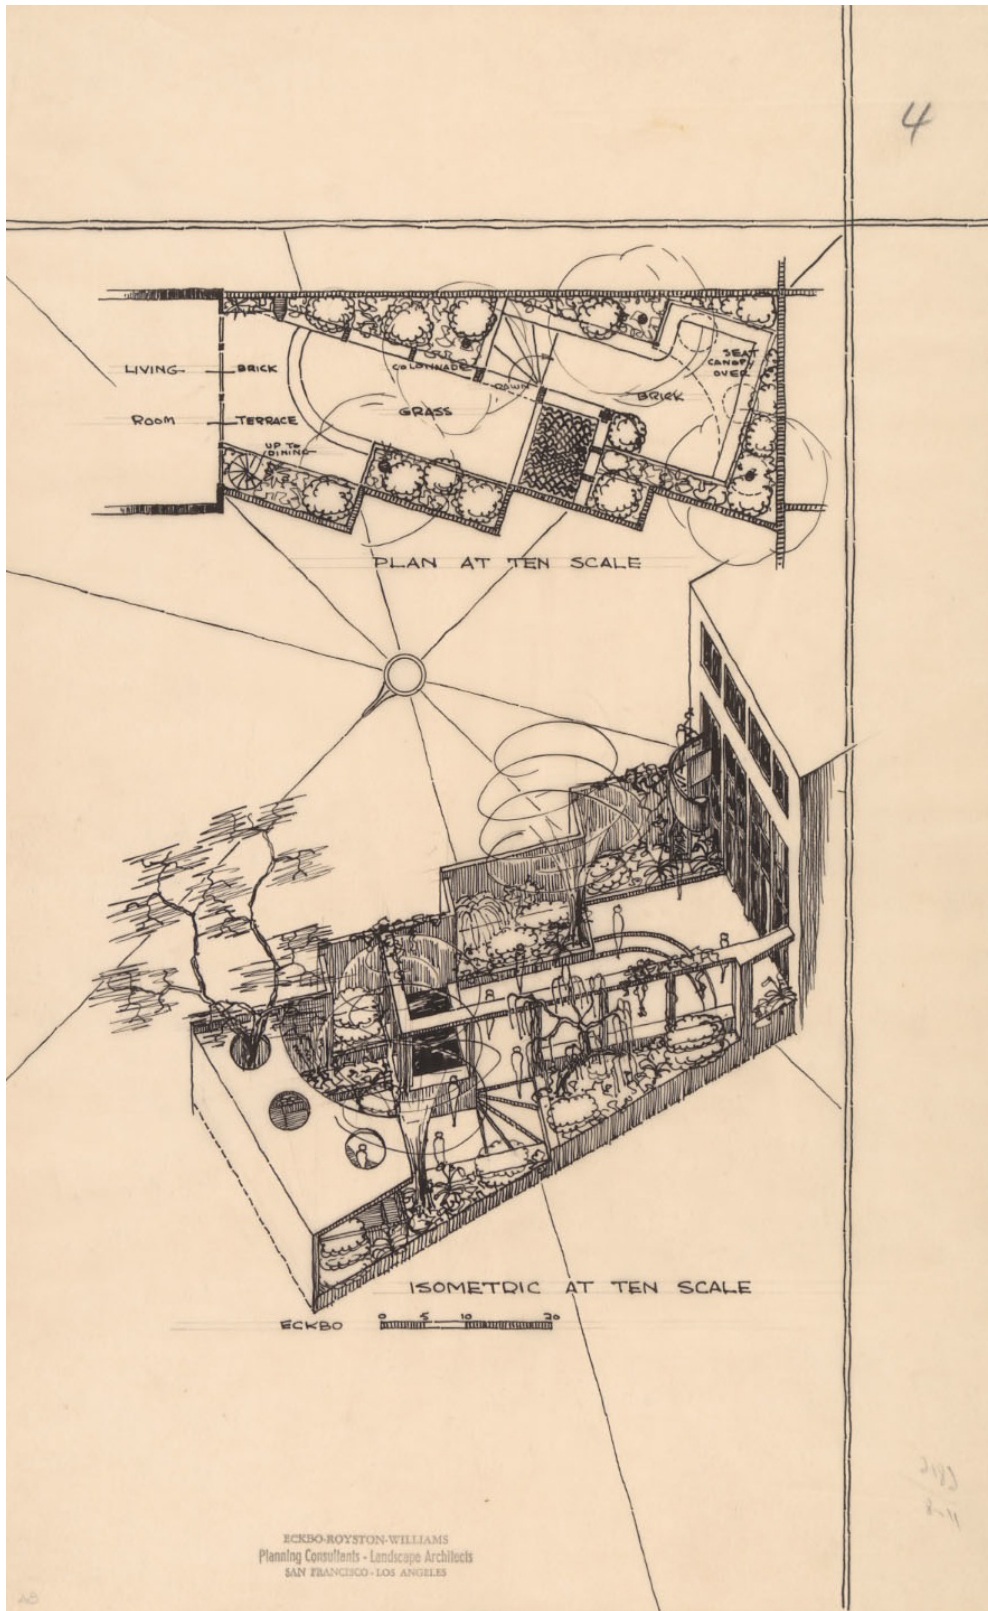

- Miller Residence, Columbus, Indiana, 1955
- Lincoln Center Courtyard, NYC, 1963

Robert Royston

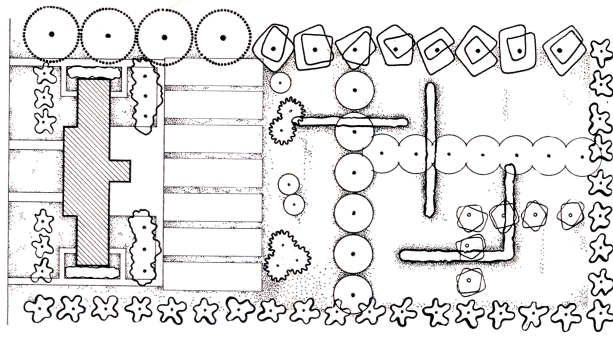

- (partners Royston, Hanamoto, Hayes & Beck, later Royston, Hanamoto, Alley & Abey, now RHAA)
- Alpert residence, SF, CA, 1946
 - Mitchell Park, Palo Alto, 1957
 - UC Santa Cruz Amphitheater, 1968

Luis Barragan

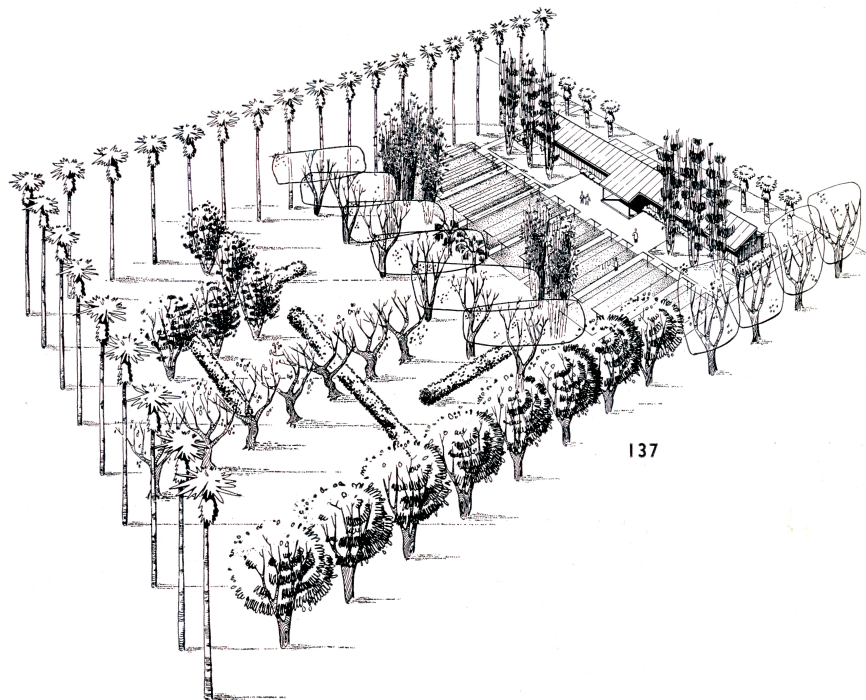

- Salk Institute, La Jolla, California, with architect Louis Kahn, 1959

Plan of an urban garden, Garrett Eckbo, 1938, MLA Thesis Harvard

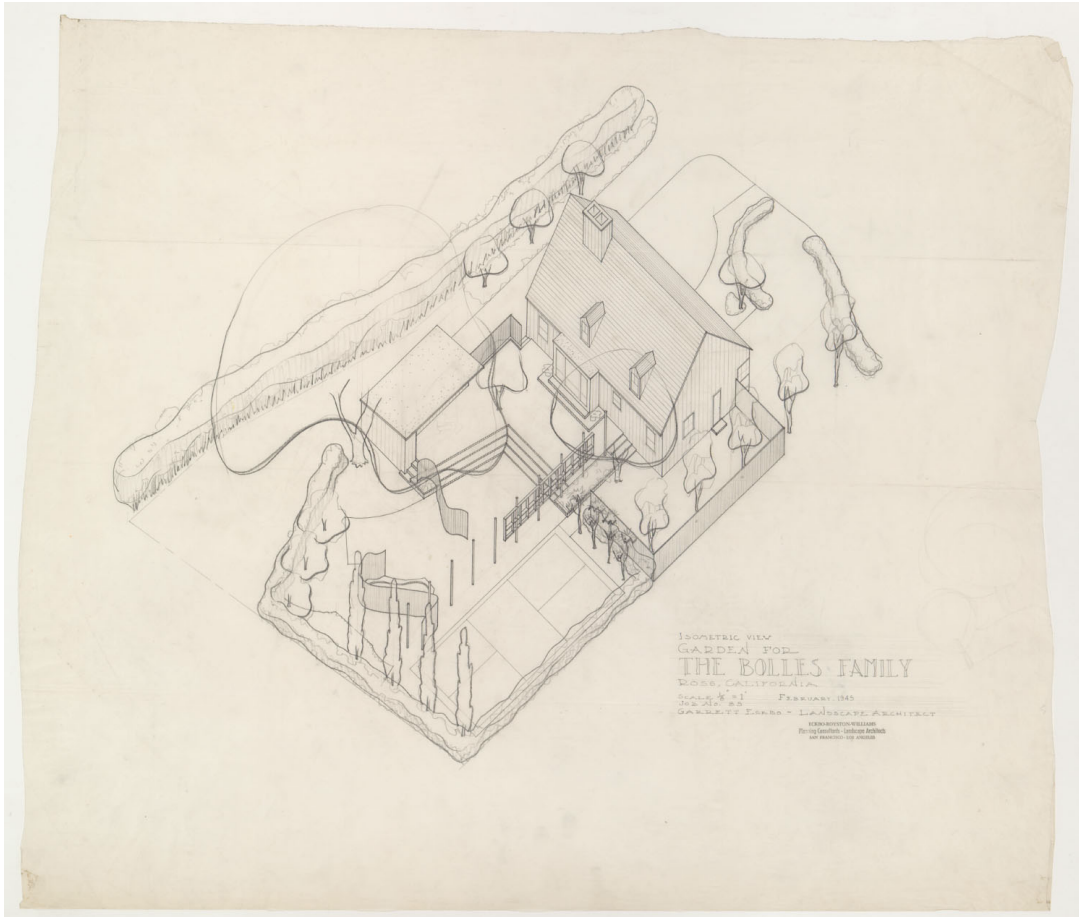

136

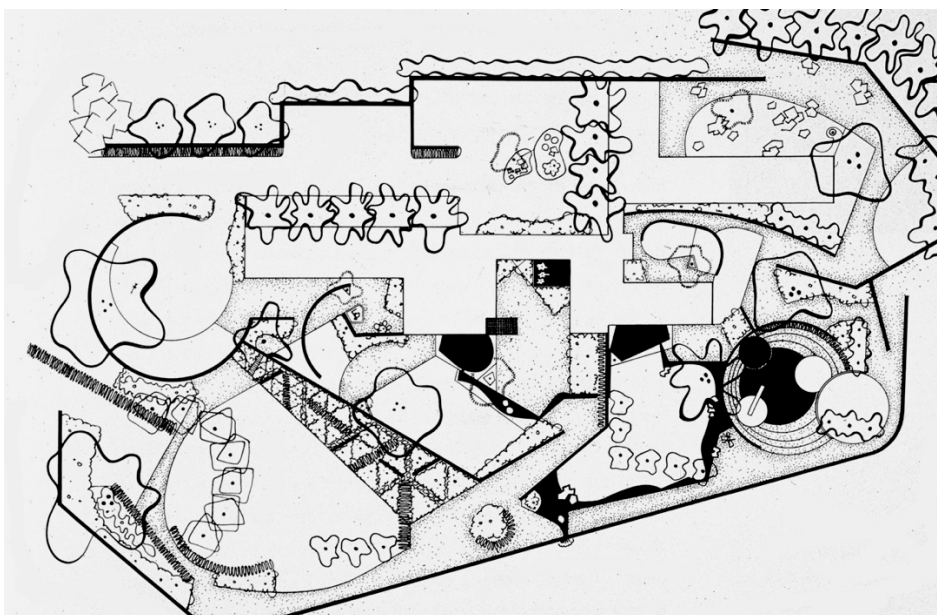

137

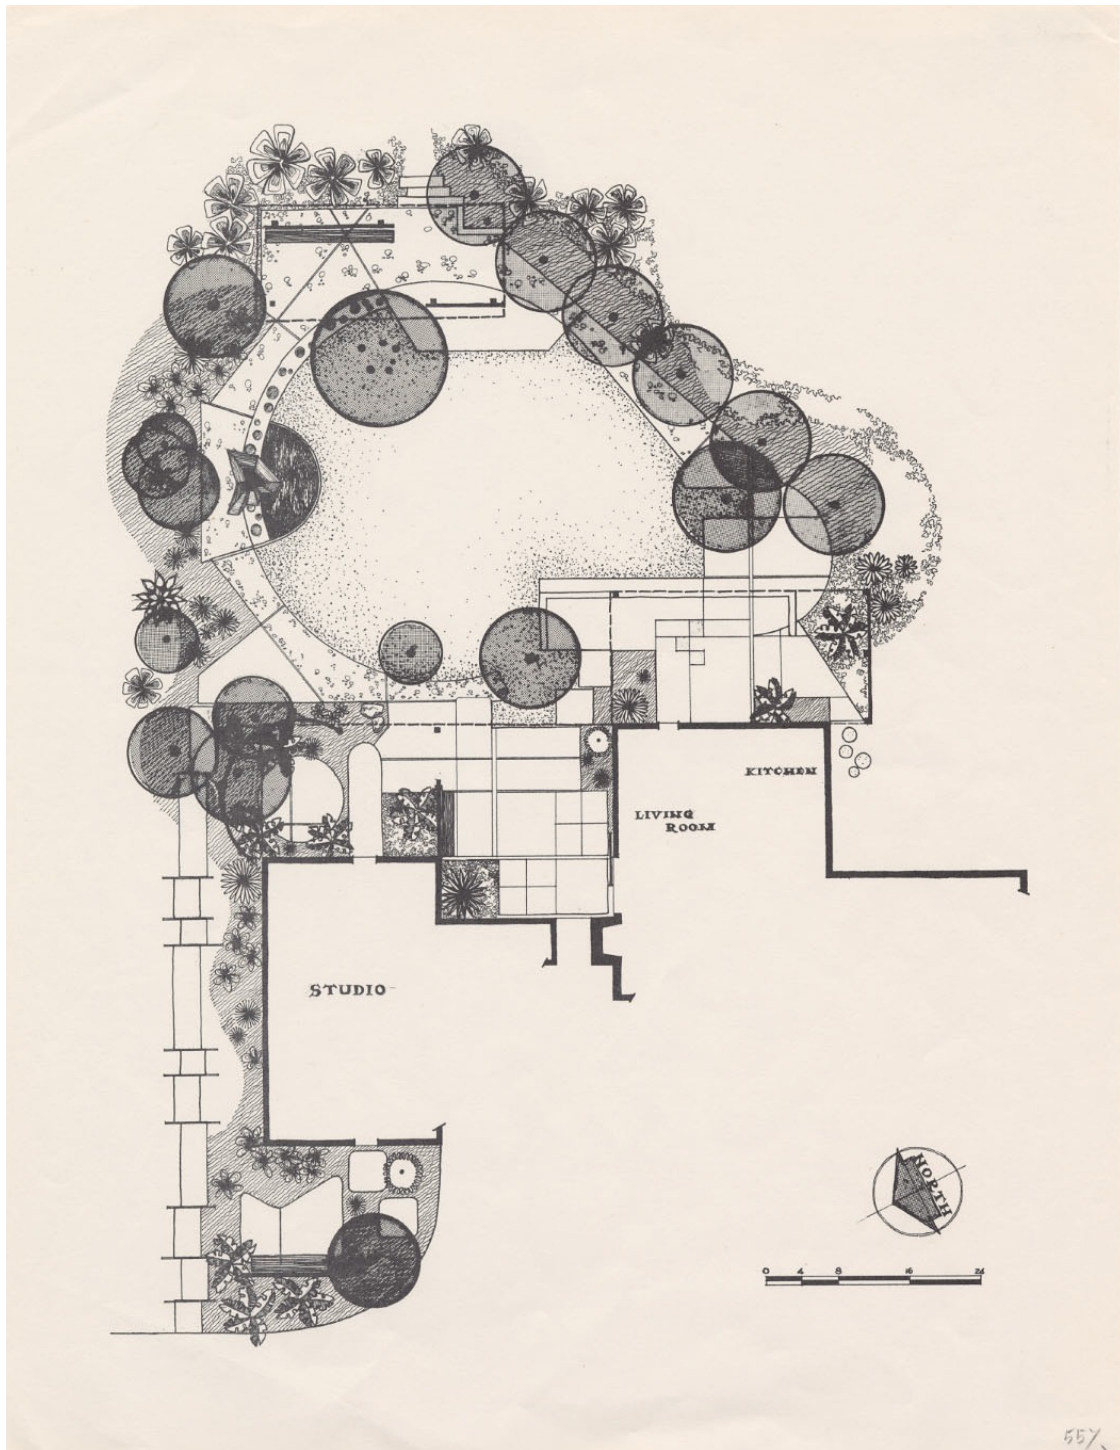

Garrett Eckbo, Plan and Axonometric of a Labor Camp Recreation Center
Farm Security Administration, 1939, published in Landscape for Living, 1950

Garrett Eckbo, Bolles Residence, Ross California, 1945

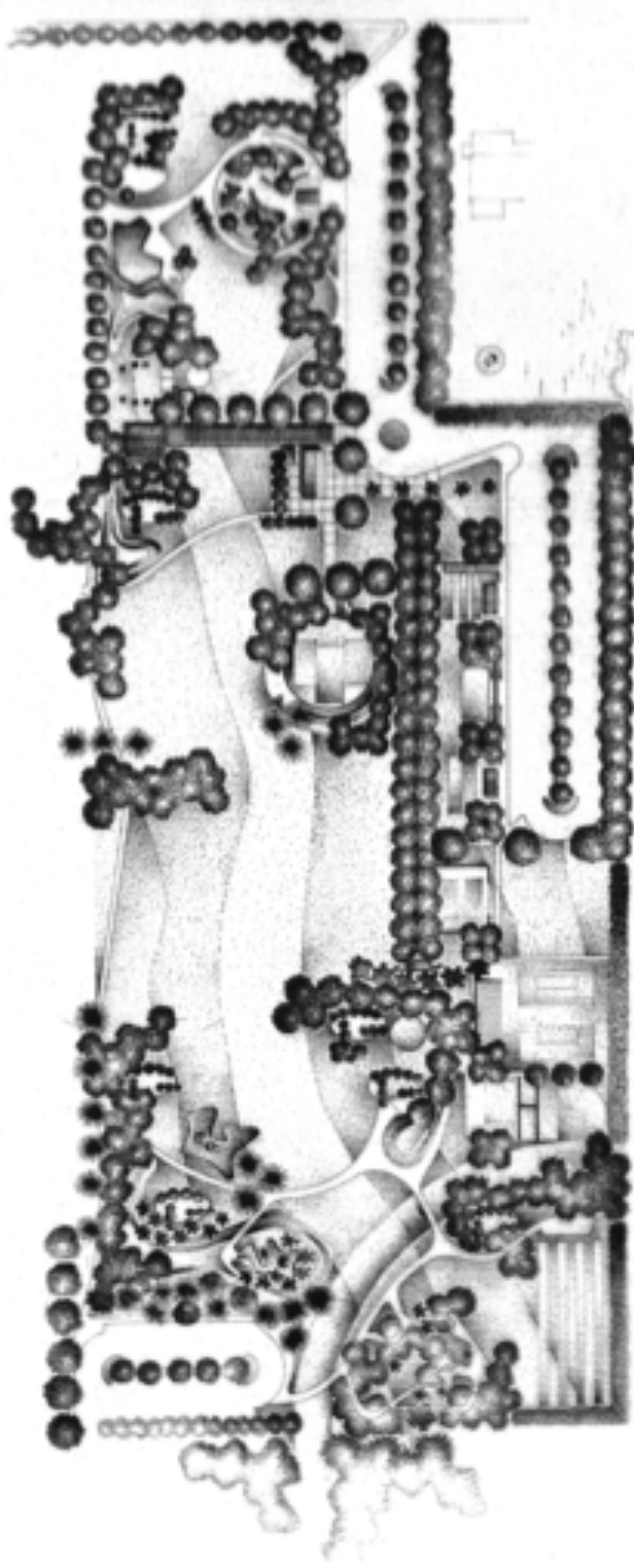

Garrett Eckbo, Burden Garden, Westchester County, NY, 1945

Garrett Eckbo, Alcoa Forecast Garden, (Eckbo Garden), Los Angeles, 1959

Dan Kiley, Miller Garden, Columbus, Indiana, 1959
Eero Saarinen, Architect

Robert Royston, Mitchell Park, Palo Alto, 1956